I am hopefully soon to be a Passat owner, it will be a 2.0 TDI Bluemotion estate about a year old, but whether to go for manual or DSG? I just don't know! With the price of fuel as it is, I am interested in maximising the MPG although probably not going to be doing a very high mileage so the cost of fuel may be dwarfed by depreciation in the grand scheme of things.

DSG vs manual: MPG and total running costs?

Not much difference, but definitely an indicator that the manual would provide at least slightly better fuel savings than the DSG. This was surprising since I'd seen some other models where a sequential transmission actually betters the manual on fuel economy. I thought this was a new trend that was happening everywhere, but apparently not.

I have a SEL which means DSG only. If you like driving manual do not get DSG. Anyone who tells you shifting with DSG is like driving manual has never driven manual. If auto trans is ok with you the DSG is a great automatic. Mileage difference is insignificant I am averaging 46.2 MPG for first 2500 miles with DSG.

Mine's a 150 DSG and it started off doing about 36mpg which I was very happy with, but since passing 5000 miles it's getting a bit better with the last few tanks averaging 38-39mpg. That's the true mpg, though the displayed mpg is only about 1.5mpg optimistic which is probably the most accurate fuel gauge I've ever had!
